(BULLETIN)
ATTICA, Ind., July 24.—Tom Boyce, 27-year-old father of three young children, broke down today after hours of grilling and confessed the brutal attack-murder of Elizabeth Debrucker, 11, State police announced.

The child's body was found Saturday afternoon in a small ravine on the Harrison Hills country club golf course, where Boyce was grounds keeper.

Child Ravished
The State police announcement quoted Boyce as admitting he ravished the child, then threw her into the water-filled ravine. Then, to make sure she was dead, Boyce was alleged to have said, he took the girl's body from the water and choked her.

When found by volunteers after an all-night search, the body had been hastily concealed by a few inches of dirt. The cloth belt of the girl's dress had been knotted about her throat.

Authorities stated Boyce's only request after confessing was that he

Two little girls, of the approximate age of three years, on the North Hill, shocked their families and neighborhood friends Sunday afternoon when they decided to enjoy the cooling sprays of the garden hose a la nude.

There are many indications that Ole Man Winter plans an unusually early visit this year and intends to outstay his usual visit. Chief among these is the fact that the trees are shedding their leaves, which have turned brown and are crackly to the touch.

A woman may be as old as she looks and a man as old as he feels, according to the old slogan, but what about a boy or a girl. The thought is suggested by observing some of the young folks to be seen at the wheels of automobiles. Some of these youngsters appear too youthful to have had their second set of teeth, and it is hard to believe that they have arrived at the driving age. But it must be so, else how have they managed to get their driving licenses. Maybe some of these drivers are older than they look, but they certainly look as though they belonged to the cradle roll.

Most all of us will agree with E.
Arthur Sweeny, secretary of welfare, that institutional employees in his department should pay their taxes or be fired. In fact we would go a little further than institutional employees, and say that any person holding a state, county or municipal job who does not pay his or her taxes should be fired. Here in New Castle we have known of a number of instances of people on the public payroll who have been dilatory when it came to paying their taxes. In these cases higher-ups should have back-bone.

President And Farley Have Politicians Guessing

By GEORGE DURNO

HYDE PARK, N. Y., July 24.—Tom
President Roosevelt and Postmaster General Farley had political circles guessing today.

Here at the president's Hudson river estate a noonday ceremony was arranged wherein Mr. Roosevelt would sign over the deed to the north twelve acres where the Franklin D. Roosevelt library eventually will be erected.

Anti-New Deal Democrats, "inner circle" White House boys who would like to get the postmaster general out of the cabinet, and Republicans were the three divergent elements who apparently hoped Mr. Roosevelt and Farley would come to a part of the political ways.

Will Quiz Chamberlain On Appeasement Plan

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 24.—The British government today formally and unequivocally denied responsibility for the plan of Rober S. Hudson, secretary for overseas trade, to "appease" Germany with a $5,000,000,000 international loan.

At the same time, the government admitted that it had agreed to recognize the "special require-

China, but denied that this meant de facto recognition of Nipponese sovereignty over conquered areas of China.

INTRUDER SLAYS WIFE OF SURGEON

Five Shots Fired Into Body Of Illinois Woman On Sleeping Porch

(International News Service)

BENTON, Ill., July 24.—A wide police search was under way today for the mysterious intruder who early yesterday shot and killed Mrs.
Nancy Gore after breaking into a glass-enclosed porch where the 45-year-old woman had been asleep with her husband, George W. Gore.

Dr. Gore, widely known surgical specialist, told police he and his wife had been awakened by crashing glass and that Mrs. Gore had stepped out of bed to investigate when the intruder fired five bullets into her body. The 65-year-old physician said he had rolled out of bed to the floor, fearing that if he stood up he would make too good a target for the killer.

The surgeon said he could not suggest a motive for the killing and that although he had a large sum of money hidden on the porch near his bed, the killer did not try to enter.

THREE PROBES OF BRIDGE COLLAPSE

Three Are Killed As Bridge
Falls Near Huntingdon,
Over Week End

(International News Service)

HUNTINGDON, Pa., July 24.—
Three separate probes were launched today into the collapse of a bridge at Alexandria, eight miles west of Huntingdon, late Saturday, killing three members of a vacationing family.

Secretary of Highways I. Lamont Hughes announced he was awaiting a report from his district engineer into the cause of the bridge collapse which plunged the automobile of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kaufman and their young son, of Sunnyside, N. Y., into the Juniata river. A huge trailer truck fell on top of their car, killing them instantly. The truck driver and his helper escaped injury.

In addition to the highways department investigation, the State Motor Police and the coroner's office were probing the collapse of the 160-foot-long, structural steel bridge.
Police said the bridge was considered safe for all traffic and that no signs were posted limiting vehicles to certain tonnage.

Surprise Attack Occurs Near Shanghai

Chinese Make Sudden Move

Report 3,000 Chinese Take Part In Assault Upon Japanese Forces

BATTLE DEVELOPS NEAR BRITISH AREA

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, July 24.—Japanese defenders today fought bitterly to stave off surprise attack by a large contingent of Chinese guerrillas and regulars of the re-organized Fourth Route army in a pitched battle just beyond the British defense line of the Shanghai international settlement.

The engagement was reportedly the fiercest since capture of Shanghai by the Japanese early in the autumn of 1937. One report said 3,000 Chinese regulars had managed to slip through the Japanese lines into the Shanghai area to launch their surprise attack.

The battle followed a terrorist outbreak in the international area in which Albert F. "Tug" Wilson, American bartender, was shot and killed following a raid on American-owned newspapers.

Rifle and machine gun fire, foreign residents of the western districts of the town reported, could be heard almost constantly throughout the night and early morning.

The battle reached its peak at 1:45 a. m. and was waging fiercely long after dawn.

PRESIDENT AND FARLEY CAUSE MUCH GUESSING

Democratic national chairman, decided prior to his arrival at Hyde Park that he had told "conservative" senators it would be impossible for him to support the president for a third term.

On Motor Trip

The president and Farley motored over wooded country road yesterday. Whether they discussed and settled the 1940 problem no one learned. It was carefully explained by Mr. Roosevelt that his cabinet aide had been invited to Hyde Park for a farewell social call in advance of Farley's impending European vacation.

After motoring around the Roosevelt estate in the front seat of the touring car that the president personally drives, Farley spent the night at Hyde Park.

Today, Mr. Roosevelt was staging a ceremony that will make his family estate eventually a public point of call. Congress a few days ago passed the act whereby the government will accept the Hyde Park property upon the president's death, including a privately-subscribed library building to house all of his official, political and personal papers.

Frank C. Walker, original Roosevelt campaign treasurer, arranged today's solemnification of the signing away of the deed to the 12 acres in the north field. Walker has raised the money to erect the library building on that field which is to house the president's papers.

Present also were Dr. R. D. W. Connor, national archivist; George Allen, commissioner of the District of Columbia; Ernest K. Lindley, columnist and Roosevelt biographer; L. A. Simon, William J. Moore and W. W. Epstein.

WILL QUESTION CHAMBERLAIN ON NEW APPEASEMENT

merous loan in exchange for a pledge of peace and unilateral disarmament.

"I still have a feeling," Greenwood asserted, "that if Chamberlain could open the appeasement umbrella again he would be only too glad to do it."

Continued acts of moral cowardice will not keep the peace of the world."

Delicate Job

Chamberlain also faced the delicate task of explaining to commons official reports from Tokyo that his government had yielded to Japanese pressure for, recognition of Japan's hegemony over conquered territory in China.

His job made even more delicate and, according to some observers, more risk for his government in view of mounting public clamor against appeasement with consequent loss of British prestige in Europe as well as the Far East.

The "appeasement for peace plan," sponsored by overseas trade department secretary, disavowed by the government as "fantastic" and to which Greenwood referred provided:

—That Hitler be flatly advised Britain and her allies would resist German domination of Europe by force.

—Withdrawal by Germany from Czechoslovakia and agreement to arms limitation and their disarmament.

—A huge loan to Germany—said to have been placed as high as $5 billion dollars—plus facilities for economic rehabilitation of the Reich.

—A fair deal for Germany in re-apportionment of raw material sources of supply.

—Friendly cooperation for making available markets for German industries.

Envisage Peace.

Hudson told the London Daily Express that he and Wohlthat "had tried to envisage the tremendous possibilities of peace."

"We thought, for instance, of how European powers, with the cooperation of the United States, could help in the economic development of China and vast regions of the Far East."

Reports in diplomatic circles as well stated that Hudson had included the United States in his sweeping plan for a $5,000,000,000 repair job on Nazi Germany.

Public outcry against the Hudson plan, which the official admitted was broached to German economic expert Dr. Hermann Wohlthat, reached its height in an editorial today in the Leftwing Reynolds news which urged parliament to remain in session to avoid the danger that Mr. Chamberlain "will again surrender to Chancellor Hitler's threats of force."

be permitted a final visit to his wife and children in Attica. This request was granted and Boyce then was jailed at Indianapolis.

Removed To Indianapolis

Boyce's removal to Indianapolis was made secretly in fear of mob violence against him.

When Boyce was first arrested for questioning Saturday night, an angry crowd of some 300 persons gathered around the jail and during the night he was taken to LaFayette, Ind., for safe-keeping.

Three years ago Boyce was given a suspended sentence for annoying a nine-year-old girl.

Elizabeth, daughter of a prosperous farmer living near Attica, disappeared Friday after attending a 4-H club meeting here. The search for her got under way when she failed to keep an appointment with her elder sister for a swim in the country club's pool.

NEXT DOOR NEIGHBOR

NIGHT skies have been unusually beautiful lately. Cool and clear weather has brightened the stars and seemed to bring them closer to earth. Climbing the eastern sky after twilight is a splendid star which is not a star. A little planet, half the size of the earth, is stealing the show.

Mars swings outside the earth's orbit and now our world is almost directly between the red planet and the sun. So Mars is nearly as close as it will ever come, a mere 36,000,000 miles away. And astronomers, of course, are making the most of it, canning the rust-red face of Mars to add a little to the little known about our neighbor planet.

What is known is mainly negative knowledge. Long ago the myth of Mars was exploded, a myth begun by inventing explanations for the curious "canals" seen by some astronomers and doubted by others. It is a reasonable certainty of science that there is no human life, as we know it, on the red planet. But it appears that the uninformed multitude likes the legend of supermen on Mars, made in our image, but more so, is loath to take the word of science that it isn't so.

A cautious scientist does not say that life is impossible on other planets. What is said is that our kind of life cannot exist there. But all life on this earth exists within amazingly narrow limits. It exists in an infinitesimal skin of air, soil and water around the globe, inside a brief scale of tolerable temperatures and by grace of a few essential elements. And that is the only kind of life we know.

Living creatures, perhaps reasonable creatures, may dwell on the pinkish planet which shines now in the sky more brightly than the giant suns that are the stars. But these neighbors of ours, if any, are not our sort of people.

SOMETHING TO CELEBRATE

Next year will be the 500th anniversary of printing.

The American Institute of Graphic Arts is preparing to celebrate this event, one of the most momentous in the history of man. It is also approximately 400 years since the introduction of printing to the New World, and about 300 since the printing of the first book in what is now the United States.

Libraries, schools, newspaper, book, and periodical publishers are all planning to join in observing the anniversary.

That is proper, for it was printing from movable type that first brought learning within reach of the common man. Perhaps this will some day be regarded as his greatest victory. It is one we will do well not to throw away lightly by cultivating the ear so exclusively that the eye forgets the permanence, the clarity, the beauty of the printed word.

It is a gift whose precious glint has become slightly tarnished by familiarity. If the institute can do anything to refurbish it in our minds, it will have served us all.

FUTURE OF PHILANTHROPY?

Publicly announced gifts for philanthropic purposes dropped 10% per cent in the first six months of this year in New York, Washington, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia, according to a recent report. Certain philanthropic fields enjoyed increased support, such as fine arts, foreign relief and religious work. Fields experiencing definite declines were education, organized relief, health, play and recreation, and miscellaneous reform.

The whole field of private philanthropy is going through considerable change. Government is expected in these times to take care of some things which formerly were entirely the charge of private organizations or individual givers. Community funds in some cities have been more successful in recent years, while in others the depression has caused a falling off in gifts and required much paring of budgets.

It is widely agreed that both public and private philanthropy are necessary. The precise divisions, amounts and methods must be worked out along with other economic, social and political changes and readjustments of the times.

LOOKS ARE DECEIVING

Are you one of those snap-judgment folks who's hopped on the idea that "I can get a pretty good idea of a man's intelligence just by looking at him?"

It's a pleasant idea that everyone you meet carries a sort of intellectual price-tag on his face. The low forehead, the long nose, the receding chin—what one of us has not nodded sagely on seeing them, and said, "I've got HIM pegged!"

But it is all nonsense, according to Prof. Egon Brunswick, University of California physiologist. "Judging people's intelligence by their physical appearance," says the professor, "is not much more likely to be correct than guessing whether a coin will come down heads or tails."

Disillusioning, but be reconciled by the fact that if the other fellow's intelligence isn't to be judged by his face, ours needn't be either. Which is a break for most of us, at that.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACH CHILD MEANING OF NO
Louis Bard is four years old. He has never learned the meaning of no. He has a patient mother and a sympathetic father.

From the time that he could toddle, he ran freely into the street and across it, even when some adult was not near him.

He had done much damage to the furniture at home, and the sight of him put terror into the hearts of friends his parents visited. Sometimes his parents were able to keep Louis engaged in activities which deterred him from destruction. But unless they were very vigilant he would soon be exploring the whole house, appropriating what he pleased. Or he might escape to play several blocks away.

At home his mother and father tried to keep him from destructive and dangerous activities, solely by positive suggestion, by reasoning, which usually turned into an argument followed, finally, by a snappy, shrill, and shriller no. If such shouting failed, Louis would be bodily pulled away or held by what seemed to him to be a big bully—the parent who believed he would have been a brute to have taught this child a year or two earlier, by a few good spanks, the precious restraining word, no.

Yet, Louis now heard this monosyllable many, many times a day, even often in the same situation. Mother Bard was almost worn out at reasoning with him, explaining to him, arguing with him, exhorting him, forbidding him, finally shrieking no at him. All the while she was annoyed at him and he at her.

A few months ago Louis was taken ill with scarlet fever. It was a light case, and he was not ill enough to want to lie down. But the doctor said, "to protect his heart, he must be kept entirely off his feet for three weeks."

Mother Bard explained to Louis and coaxed. She was able to keep him down most of the time. But on the second day, when a fire engine passed the house, he was standing at the window before she realized what had happened. At the end of the week he was up on his feet 20 times a day.

What the lad's health condition will be in years to come only time can tell. He may spend a lifetime with a crippled heart, and probably a brief lifetime at that, all because his parents believed—and who can blame them?—that he never should be spanked.

My fellow parent: Begin with the child as soon as he begins to locomote to teach him, with the good old-fashioned spank thoughtfully planned and applied, the meaning of no. Then he will be trained for later emergencies when no might help to save his life. But employ no as easily as possible.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. How can timidity toward children of her own age and school teachers be overcome in a girl of 10 years, well advanced in her studies?

A. Build her up physically. Help her find enjoyment with many boys and girls of her age. Attract lots of them to her home. Never laugh at her mistakes or make her feel that any of her questions or remarks are not worthy of your consideration and respect. Pray for the teacher that she might be sympathetic.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

EARLY DAYS

Mark Twain and Bret Harte made famous that part of California surrounding Placerville. On my trip in Northern California I traveled from Lake Tahoe to Sacramento by way of Placerville. Back in the gold days of Placerville, it was known as Hangtown, but the inhabitants do not have to those days recalled, although it seems to be as wild as it was in the old days. Miners on a recent spree tore down the fence of one of the town's most respected widows and this seemed to call for a revival of E. Clampus Vitus, the old vigilante-fraternal organization of miners. E. Clampus Vitus was dedicated to taking care of widows and orphans, mostly widows and it seems to be needed again.

Death was very casual in the old days. A letter in San Andreas, dated at the Murphy Mine, February 11, 1852, says: "Me and Charles are sentenced to be hung today at 5 o'clock," and then goes on with some commonplace gossip. The Sheriff was always directed to be the judge to do a legal hanging at the first convenient place. This meant a tree with a handy limb.

The fellow who wrote this particular letter about "me and Charles" had been caught stealing gold out of a sluice box. He knew he had it coming.

Jenny Linder was mighty popular with the miners. They named one town "Jenny Lind" after her, but that wasn't enough. They named another near-by one "Linden."

They say some of the old diggings—now full of water—are so deep that the fish are born blind down in the dark depths. But they are reported to have gold scales! You have to fight off people wanting to see you "the original frog" in Mary Twain's "Jumping Frog of Calaveras."

The sleepiest place around Placerville seemed to be Columbia, where Mark Twain used to hang out and have a few snorts. You might think that it did not see a half dozen cars a week—it's just a community with a few abandoned buildings and old houses—but there is one of the busiest candy shops in the country right there. It's famous all over Northern California and they sell thousands of pounds of candy a year to the tourists. Right here at Columbia pay dirt was very rich in the old days—so rich, it is said, that the preacher of the church on the top of one of the little hills, had to stay awake all night to drive off people with sacks. One sack of dirt would yield about fifty dollars worth of gold.

Bloom Finally Achieves Ambition
Is Chairman On Foreign Affairs
Was Once Friendly With Mussolini

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, July 24—

Congressman Sol Bloom, of Manhattan,

new chairman of the house of representatives' foreign affairs committee, has wanted that particular chairmanship for a long time, though he regrets the fashion in which he finally acquired it. That is to say, his predecessor, Congressman Sam D. McReynolds, of Tennessee, died recently and Sol succeeded him by right of seniority.

However, he'd been acting chairman for some time, the Tennessee lawmaker's last illness having been a long one, with the New Yorker pinch hitting at the committee's head during the interval. An acting chairmanship isn't the same thing, though, as the real article.

Now Sol has the latter.

European and Asiatic conditions being what they are today, the two congressional chambers' foreign relations committees are vitally important. Their chairmen bulk correspondingly largely in the public eye and it's only human for legislators to fancy such positions.

Sol got into his acting chairmanship at an awkward juncture.

The neutrality row was raging violently on Capitol Hill. Senator

Nye's law, depriving the White House of any discretion whatever in the event of an overseas conflict was (and is yet) in effect. President Roosevelt and State Secretary

Hull took (and still take) the view that Uncle Sam's neutrality will be safer if a modicum of judgment is left to the executive end of the government in wartime emergencies.

Congressman Bloom, agreeing with P. D. R. and Secretary Hull, proposed an act in conformity with what they suggested. The absolute neutralists tied this bill up in a parliamentary bowknot. It isn't beaten, but neither is it passed. Sol did a good job with it, nevertheless

The Great Game Of Politics

Mr. Jones would be the head of the newly created powerful Federal Lending Administration.

IT is quite clear that if any part of this bill is to go through at this session Mr. Jones' influence is essential. Called upon, Mr. Jones responds. He is not particularly congenial to the President, and the Neo-New Dealers dislike him very much. But when they get into a legislative jam they turn to him for help. That's what they did this time, but the fact that he is helping does not mean that he does not recognize this bill for what it is—a political pump-priming proposition which will be much emasculated before it gets through and which won't work anyhow.

Typical Chorus Girl Wants No Screen Actor For Husband

By BURDETTE JAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 24.—America's young and unattached male, given a nice suit of clothes, a free evening and pocket full of spending money would probably elect a date with a Hollywood chorus girl if given his choice among exciting evenings. He'd have a swell time. But it wouldn't be the sort of evening he expected. It would be just like a date with the girl in the next block or an evening with a visiting cousin from Akron.

For Hollywood's chorus girl, off the screen, is the average American Miss, pretty level headed as well as pretty, with ambitions no different from those of any other girl.

Twenty such girls, all expert ballerinas, were working in "On Your Toes," a comedy dance novelty. George Balanchine, internationally famous choreographer, directed the two modern ballets that feature the production, and it was to him the girls reported each morning for a month of rehearsal before the dances were filmed.

Social Security slips and employment questionnaires, filled out when the 20 girls went on the studio payroll, provide the information from which the mean average may be struck. From those figures, and those facts, here is the typical Hollywood chorus girl.

She is 21 years old, unmarried. She was born in Cuervo, Texas; Wichita, Kansas; a little town in Oregon or some city like Chicago or Cleveland. She did not come from New York. Her earlier education was obtained in her home town, finished in Los Angeles or Hollywood schools. She came West with her family, often with just her widowed mother, not planning to enter the movies.

Most of these girls now support, wholly or in large part, one or both parents. She earns around $66 a week when she works, which is about 35 or 40 weeks a year. She does not intend to follow a screen career and will marry when the right chap comes along. This chap probably will be some fellow with a technical job in the studios. No actors. Actors are out, as far as your chorus girl is concerned.

For recreation she loves an evening of dancing at some inexpensive place where there is a good orchestra, several games of bowling, a weenie roast at the beach, or a ride through the country.

Turner Withdraws From State Battle

Will Not Be Candidate For Superior Court Nomination —Last Day To File

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 24.—As the state elections bureau prepared to day for a last-day flood of judgeship nominating petitions, house speaker Ellwood J. Turner announced that he had withdrawn from the race for the Republican nomination for the state superior court in the interest of the party harmony.

"I have weighed the situation carefully," Turner said, "and have come to the conclusion that while I would have formidable support, this contest would inevitably lead to misunderstanding and difference within the Republican party."

Field Is Narrowed
Withdrawing of the veteran Delaware Republican narrowed the field seeking the high court nomination to four with the state G.O.P. committee backing the three present incumbents, Judge William H. Keller, Lancaster; William E. Hirt, Erie; and Thomas J. Baldridge, Blair. Judge Hirt was named by Gov. Arthur H. James to fill the unexpected term created when he became chief executive.

In addition, Arthur C. Dale, of Bellefonte, former chairman of the Workmen's Compensation board, has filed nomination petitions with the elections bureau.

Republican nominating petitions for the supreme court have been filed by Judge Marian D. Patterson, Blair, and Judge Howard W. Hughes, Washington. George Ross Hull, Dauphin, one-time deputy attorney general, and Judge Sara M. Stoffel, Allegheny, were expected to file their petitions today.

The Democratic State committee has endorsed Dean Herbert F. Goodrich, of the University of Pennsylvania Law School, for the superior court, and U. S. Rep. J. Harold Flannery, Luzerne, and former state senator Edward J. Thompson, Centre, for the supreme court. Their petitions were filed Friday.

EDMUND'S ANNOUNCES FOR TREASURERSHIP

Edmunds Announces For Treasurership

Former Registration Chief Clerk A Candidate For Republican Nomination

THOMAS EDMUNDS

Thomas Edmunds, former chief clerk in the Permanent Registration Bureau today announced his candidacy for county treasurer. Born and educated in Lawrence County, Mr. Edmunds has served the county since the inception of the permanent registration act. His work in the office in setting up the system attracted the attention of adjoining counties and twice he has been asked to go into other counties and set up the system by which the commission works. His statement follows:

"There is no more important office in the county than that of county treasurer. In one term of four years, millions of dollars of the people's money pass through his hands and the man who is selected for the post should not only be qualified, but he should have an indefinite capacity for hard work."

Due to recent acts of the General Assembly providing for abatements, for partial payments and for certain exemptions, the county treasurer's job has become a complex one. However, everything he does is prescribed by law and if the treasurer will follow the law, supervise his staff properly and stay on the job, there need be no question of the accuracy of his accounts.

"After returning from service in 1919 I was engaged in business for a number of years. Since the passage of the first permanent registration act I have handled the office for the Lawrence County voters.

The technique of this office and that of county treasurer is similar in that the one deals with the proper accounting of moneys and the other with proper registering and filing of the rights of the citizens to vote.

"I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for county treasurer with the idea that it is an important job that will require the man elected to spend all his time doing the job. Properly done the job leaves no time for political activities and if I am nominated and elected I expect to spend the four years just being the county treasurer. The only promise I can make is that I will do the job to the exclusion of any outside interests.

Upon this basis I ask the consideration of the Republican voters on September 12."

Edmunds Resigns As Chief Clerk

Head Of Registration Bureau Quits To Become Candidate

Thomas Edmunds, chief clerk of the registration bureau, presented his resignation to the county commissioners this morning.

The resignation is due to the fact that Mr. Edmunds is a candidate for county treasurer, and under an act of assembly he cannot run for the office while holding the position of chief registration clerk.

The county commissioners accepted the resignation and announced that no chief clerk will be named at present. Work of the registration office is to be carried on by the other clerks with Miss Edith Cowden, who has been in the office since it was started, in charge.

Compiled And Presented For Publication In The News By Fred B. Sankey, President Of Old Timer's Day Association

Old Timers Day Cascade Park, Wednesday, August 16, 1939.

Early representatives in Congress who have been elected from Lawrence county were Hon. John W. Wallace in 1860, William McClelland in 1872, and Wallace again in 1874. Lawrence county became a separate representative district in 1871. Under the constitution adopted in 1873, the county was entitled to two representatives in the State Legislature.

The first banking institution in New Castle was a private bank opened by William Dickson and Wm. McClymonds in 1851. It continued in business until December 1854, when it became so much involved it was obliged to wind up its affairs.

Another bank was organized by Dickson, Watson and William Patterson in 1855. Watson withdrew in 1858, and Mr. Patterson conducted the business in his own name until 1865, when the name was changed to "Patterson's Bank."

The Bank of New Castle was organized in 1855; the Act of Incorporation dated March 30th. Original incorporators: A. L. Crawford, R. W. Cunningham, Joseph Klessick, Thomas Wilson, Ezekiel Sankey, Wm. Dickson, John N. Euwer, Cyrus Clarke, Charles T. Whippo, L. L. McCullin, Thomas Falls, James A. McClaughney, John Ferguson, James Leslie, W. H. Reynolds. Capital $150,000.

This institution was in operation for about two years with varying fortune; was reorganized under the name of "Bank of Lawrence County," and did business until 1865, when it took up the State circulation and organized as the "National Bank of Lawrence County."

A. H. Leslie was post-master during Buchanans administration in 1856. (Continued Tomorrow)

SMOKERS: SAVE THE COST OF THE STATE CIGARETTE TAX!

The extra smoking in Camels (see below) gives you more puffs per pack—makes Camels America's shrewdest cigarette buy—the quality cigarette every smoker can afford!

Whatever price you pay per pack, it's important to remember this fact: By burning 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them—CAMELS give smokers the equivalent of Puff for puff, Camel's costlier tobaccos put far more pleasure in smoking—AND—a big extra measure of smoking, as shown by recent scientific tests on cigarettes. Leading laboratory experts, comparing 16 of the largest-selling brands, reported these interesting findings:

1 CAMELS were found to contain more tobacco by weight than the average for the 15 other of the largest-selling brands.

2 CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED—25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME OF THE 15 OTHER OF THE LARGEST-SELLING BRANDS! By burning 25% slower, on the average, Camels give smokers the equivalent of 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

3 In the same tests, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER than the average time for all the other brands.

AGAINST OVER-EXPOSING CHILDREN TO SUN

Last week we discussed the ills common to babies during hot weather. My correspondence now shows me that parents with older children also have their summer problems.

For instance during this season children are away at camp, either with their parents or at a camp with many children. This is the time when city children in particular are always running up against conditions that are foreign to them.

Probably the first and most bothersome difficulty they will encounter will be sunburn, which is painful and uncomfortable; at times even serious. You know yourselves how many adults suffer the effects of too much sun every year. If this is true of grown-ups, how much more likely it is to be the case with children!

A young child has no idea of the power of the sun. Even children of the age of twelve or so haven't got it fixed in their minds that if they stay out in the sun too long at first it is likely to have serious consequences. It is up to the mothers and fathers to see to it that the first day's sun is taken in moderation and that goes for yourselves as well as for the children.

If it happens that you are at camp together, then it would be a grand idea, fathers, for you to show your son the example of taking the sun by degrees. You might even suggest that you get your suntan together. Mothers, the same goes for yourselves and your small daughter. Certainly, there would be no

Workmen At Disposal Plant
Coming Down Home Stretch
With Stone Work

Crew of about 50 WPA workmen engaged in building hewn stone dikes at the city disposal plant, just outside the Seventh Ward are coming down the home stretch with their stone work. The job they are now on brings the stone dike out to the Willow Grove road, and completes the present project.

Already a wall has been completed on another side of the disposal plant, along the river bank. These walls are being built for the purpose of keeping high water from hindering the work of the city plant during all months of the year.

The walls are all quite permanent. The workmen placed a ground foundation for each wall section, before rip-rapping the earth dikes.

All-Star Amateur Bouts Carded For Arena Here Tonight

Tonight 16 all-star amateur glove-tossers participate in eight matches in the air-cooled Arena and the query amongst theistic fraternity is "Who will go up?" and "Who will go down?"

Among the dozen and four who are docked for action are some of the better known pugilistic fame-seekers in western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio.

Assigned to the top role are Sparkey Jaroski of Cecil, who defeated Mickie Rubin, and George Dawkins, Golden Gloves light-heavyweight champion of the Pittsburgh district. They will box at 175 pounds.

While the foregoing bout is expected to produce thrills the fans believe it will be no more exciting than the tilt between Steve Kowalki, McKeesport wildcat, and Sammy Secret, Diamond Belt champ of Pittsburgh.

Kowalki Always Dangerous

Kowalki's rolicking style, plus his punch, has combined to defeat most of the good welterweights in this district. Secret will be required to depend upon boxing ability and speed to cop the verdict.

Regis O'Brien, the McKees Rocks Irish lad, will take on the consistent Pete Spotti of Cecil at 138 pounds. This scrap alone, according to boosters of both boys, should be worth attending the show.

Other bouts scheduled follow:

Mickie Sica, New York City, vs

Pete Misto, Youngstown; 138.

Billy Reale, Castlewood, vs Al Starcevic, Youngstown; 160.

Garfield Thompson, Cecil, vs Ray Atkinson, Ellwood City; 150.

Buck Chambers, West Pittsburgh, vs Terry Jackson, Youngstown; 160.

Howard Taylor, Cecil, vs Frankie Pettit, Pittsburgh; 160.

Chambers is a novice who likes to exchange punches. Sica won his only bout in this section when he appeared at Conneaut Lake Friday night and Reale has lost only one decision in some time.

T. & L. To Benefit

Ray Atkinson, formerly one of the best welterweights in this section, will make an attempt to stage a come-back. He won his first start along that trail recently at Conneaut Lake.

The show tonight, in the Arena, Grove street, is sponsored by the Trades & Labor assembly to derive money with which to buy furniture for their headquarters. The Amateur Athletic union and state athletic commission have approved the card.

The first bout will start at 8:30 p.m.

Clean Sweep For Local Tennis Club At Ellwood City

New Castle Racquet Wielders Win Six And Lose None Saturday

Following its decisive 6-0 victory over Koppel last Saturday, the New Castle Tennis club traveled to Ellwood and whitewashed the racqueteer from that town also to the tune of six matches to none in a scheduled match of the Beaver Valley Tennis Association.

This victory gives New Castle a firm grip on second place in the eight club circuit, led only by the champion College Hill team, which club has not been defeated in more than two season's play.

This Saturday New Castle will oppose College Hill on the local courts in a very crucial match. A clean win for New Castle would nose College Hill out of first position and put the local club in a very favorable position to cop the league trophy for 1939 as the balance of New Castle's schedule is not as difficult as that of the "Hill" (Beaver Falls) club.

The individual scores of Saturday's matches follow:

Moorehead, New Castle, defeated F. Daubenspeck, Ellwood, 6-4, 7-5.

Morrow, New Castle, defeated Miller, Ellwood, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

Gunton, New Castle, defeated Jones, Ellwood, 6-3, 6-2.

Byers, New Castle, defeated A. Daubenspeck, Ellwood, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2.

Morrow-Moorhead, New Castle, defeated F. Daubenspeck-Miller, Ellwood, 6-1, 4-6, 8-6.

Gunton-Byers, New Castle, defeated Jones-A. Daubenspeck, Ellwood, 6-0, 6-0.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The National league's eastern clubs, which currently make up the second division of the circuit, hit the road today for swing through the west with nothing much at stake except their self respect. That's about all they've got left by this time, considering that the Brooklyn Dodgers, who head the second division, are 12 games off the pace, with the other eastern clubs strung out still farther to the rear. So what probably is about to transpire is the snuffing out of the east's pennant hopes, leaving the western clubs to fight it out the rest of the way.

Reds In Front

At the moment, the Cincinnati Reds are nine games in front of the deadlocked St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs with the Pittsburgh Pirates a game farther to the rear with nothing much at stake except their self respect. Hard Sunday

The St. Josephs baseball team won from the Elders yesterday at Lockley field in a city league game, 11 to 5, getting 20 hits off of three Elder hurlers. Bevan was the feature hitter in the game with a home run.

Carl Chiaffulfo did the Saints heaving and held the Elders in check even though he yielded nine hits. The Saints had two big innings, the third and seventh, when they scored nine of their runs.

The hitting of Annerella was a big feature for the Saints and so was the clubbing of Peck Huston the veteran getting four hits. Annerella had a triple and double. Chiaffulfo besides pitching a nice game, contributed four hits to the Saints cause.

Tonight the St. Josephs team meets the Slovaks at Colonial field in a postponed game at 5:45 o'clock. The summary:

Morning At Blessed Virgin

ELLWOOD CITY, July 24.—A peaceful wedding was solemnized this morning at 10 o'clock in the Blessed Virgin Mary church when Miss Elizabeth Conti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Conti of Franklin avenue, was united in holy wedlock to Frank Parillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parillo of Line avenue.

For the occasion, the church was prettily decorated with blue and white streamers and arrangements of ferns and flowers. Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano officiated in the presence of many relatives and friends, number coming from Cleveland, New Castle, Hillsdale, New Kensington, New York, Niles, Lowellville, and Pittsburgh. The double ring ceremony was used.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was very lovely in a gown of white net, fashioned in the popular princess mode, worn over white satin. She wore a tulip veil bordered with deep lace. White satin streamers holding clusters of lilies of the valley fell from the white prayer book she carried.

Miss Louise Venezie was the maid of honor and she wore an attractive gown of yellow marquisette with blue accessories and carried matching bouquets of pink roses and blue delphiniums.

Bridesmaids were Jennie Caruso, Rose Ocierno, Rose DeMauro and Clara Douda and they wore identically styled gowns of blue chiffon with pink accompaniments and carried matching bouquets of pink roses and blue delphiniums.

Little Joan Pratt and Phyllis Ballerini were flower girls and they appeared in white net gowns with blue trimmings and carried rose petals.

The bridegroom is an employee of the Standard Engineering company and after August 1, the couple will be "at home" in a newly furnished apartment in this city.

Publicity committee—T. J. Newman, chairman, Francis Newman, Leo Laughlin, James Shirk, J. J. Ecker.

Frank M. Fitzgerald is general chairman of the affair and with his committee is making extensive arrangements to make the affair an outstanding success.

Rough spots on the track will be filled in today by Highway Department workmen and local City employees will start erecting the storm fence and by Wednesday morning Ellwood will again be derby crazy. Hundreds of out of town persons are expected to witness the race and local persons intending to see the race are urged to go to the track to obtain a good place to view the spectacle. The track offers a great deal more room for a good view of the race this year than ever before due to the new street in front of Highland Terrace.

If it should rain heavily on Wednesday so as that the track would be unsafe for the youthful drivers Derby officials announced that the race would be held on Thursday at the same time. The rain would have to be a heavy deluge to cause postponement so everyone in Ellwood City should be planning to attend the greatest amateur race in the world.

The affair began with a delectable lunch at 1 o'clock and the attention of the group was held throughout the afternoon with a diverting entertainment program. Winners of the amusing races were: Charles Mayne, broad jump; William Latiano, marshball throw; relay, L. R. Davis and Albert Howells; Clarence McDonald and Paul Jennings, horseshoe pitching, and the main gate prize went to A. J. Kirkpatrick.

The much heralded marshball game between the Cold Draw and the Foremen's Club All-Stars resulted in a 13 to 9 victory for the All-Stars, putting them out in front in the series. For the winners, Sam Hoffman was spectacular in the field, and Sing McDonald completed the circuit.

The evening was spent in an enjoyable manner with singing and instrumental music being featured. At an appropriate hour, an appetizing wiener and marshmallow roast was enjoyed about a glowing bonfire. Mrs. Oran Flinner was aided in serving by a number of the ladies. A number of most attractive gifts was presented to the honor guest.

Moderate Profit-Taking Checks Spectacular Rise Of Last Week In Market

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 24.—The stock market ran into moderate profit-taking today, following last week's spectacular rise. A few leaders slipped a point, but declines generally were limited to fractions. Some issues bucked the easier trend.

Utilities displayed independent strength. Consolidated Edison, Columbia Gas, Electric Power & Light and Engineers Public Service were leaders on the advance. Several in the group reached new peaks for the year.

At forenoon lows Chrysler, Bethlehem, General Motors, Montgomery Ward and Douglas Aircraft showed losses of a point or more. These were halved in the second hour.

Among the industrials to buck the slight decline were General Electric, Crucible Steel, American Radiator and Continental Can.

Tobacco-Liquor Tax Yield Set At High Figure

Report That Both Combin-ed Provide Government With One-Fifth Of Total Revenue

LUXURY TAXES SHOW DECLINE

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, July 24.—Liquor and tobacco taxes supplied the federal treasury with approximately one-fifth of its total revenue during the last fiscal year, official tax statistics showed today.

For the year ending June 30, liquor taxes yielded the government $587,799,000, an increase of $19,000,000 over the previous twelve months. During this period, tobacco levies provided another $580,000,000, or $11,900,000 more than a year earlier.

Total government tax receipts from all sources during the past fiscal period was $1,181,000,000, a drop of nearly $500,000,000 below the 1937-38 volume.

While tobacco and liquor taxes maintained their heavy tax yields, other items in the so-called luxury group declined. Taxes realized from admissions to movie theaters, night clubs, concerts and cabarets amounted to $19,470,000, a decline of $1,300,000.

The business recession also caused a large number of people to withdraw from their social and fraternal organizations. Taxes on club dues and initiations aggregated $6,200,000, a decrease of more than $300,000.

Safe deposit box receipts totalled $1,980,000, or $32,600 less than a year ago. Taxes on sales of radio sets, phonograph records, sporting goods and refrigerators also were down. Sharing in the decline also were chewing gum, cameras, and furs.

Taxes derived from playing cards and firearms, however, showed minor increases.

Harmony Prevails At Buzzer Reunion

Old Time Favorites Get A Working Over On Sunday Afternoon

If the waves of Slippery Rock creek had been radio carrier waves Sunday afternoon, a bundle of harmony would have been wafted down towards the Ohio river. The Buzzers met for their annual reunion in the Ed Young cottage on the Slippery Rock creek, and for several hours the old-time, favorites were dusted off and barbers shopped into a lot of melody.

The affair attracted a number of visitors. George DeWolf, former New Castle man who is now in the entertainment field in Detroit, Mich., was present, as was Gene Klingsmith of Warren, O. Bunny Rosenblum of Butler, Harry Penrose of Pittsburgh.

The crowd numbered about 40 and began gathering early in the afternoon. Much of the time was spent in singing, some in reminiscing, and at seven o'clock they sat down to a spaghetti and meat ball dinner.

This year's reunion was by far the most successful of any held.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Who invented the square meal?—Nobody.

It evolved through centuries of experimentation.

Man to live, must eat.

He has learned what foods his body needs.

Years of usage have produced the somewhat standard meal.

It is a well-balanced meal used by the majority of people.

It nourishes the body, pleases the palate, satisfies appetite.

The essentials of a square meal are substantial, plain foods.

Meat, potatoes, green vegetables are basic foods.

Bread and butter add to the satisfying quality of a meal.

Sweet desserts contribute to the "staying" performance.

The square meal, the well-balanced meal, is not a passing fad.
